1.1.1 The concept of love was due to support and friendship one another and it is found that the three stories: Look Nee Tee Ruk, Haw Jai Kai Rung and Nai Man Make.

For story of Look Nee Tee Ruk, the author showed the concept of love from one another by assisting in trouble until they can pass on the debt crisis in the city. Aomsin who was a young woman lived in the capital city as with a taste for the purchase of consumables. Spendthrift and make a credit card debt was thought to be a suicide, but her friends do not. Kongpob, who was a son of company owner, was secretly in love with Aomsin and help to debt and individualized to the plan deductible namely "Magic number 3". The principle was very simple including reducing expenses, increasing income, and changing your view of life. The two close friends (Ittipon and Muthita) helped influence and kindness. Kongpob told everyone that if deduct the debt within three months, so allowed him to be a boyfriend. The following message:

"You had no choice, Aomsin" Ittipon moved a notebook in front of everyone staring at the screen widened eyes almost pop out of it .. right in front of her Facebook scattering writing that " the journey of thousands of refugees to deduct the debt of Aomsin" and then click on the blog of the same name in the website name that suddenly open issues. Officer girl with early twenty years old just beginning to work alone and owed 390,000 baht due to using brand name goods. However, this woman planned to deduct the debt using Magic number 3 within three months. Then lower the monthly cost of thirty thousand to three thousand baht. (Chakreeya, 2011: 112)

For story of Haw Jai Kai Rung, the author derives from the concept of love to lend a hand. Kairung, who was a piano teacher, was to be a friend with Singkhon since childhood. But with Kairung was poor, mother commanded her to move away from Singkhon because Singkhon's father did not like Kai Rung. But was unable to do this because Kairung had music teaching school, namely Ban Ruk Don Tree. This school for blind children was on the land of Singkhon's father. But soon school will be closed down because it would create a condominium. She tried to find the possible way to build the new school by using music to raise money. All the time, Singkhon helped her, but she did not know. Finally, the students participated in the music contest finalists. It made her even know that success came from helping behind Singkhon. He loved Kairung without knowing it. The following message:

"rung...rung" Kairung fumbled to answer "If you told me, what happened to the Ban Ruk Don Tree. I had a way to do my father to stop it without which no one hurt feelings. If you go back, we wanted to go back to sit under the tree, but I will not compensate us ten years to the rest of my life from now on. Kairung were not painful or sad because this guy and will never hear from me again idiot harrowing or even once ". (Isaiah, 2011: 363)

For the story of Nai Man Make, the author showed the concept of love was formed by complementary support. Raungkaw slept and dream of a gala dinner fixed besieged by the media and people in the circles of nobility at pleasure. Suddenly, the old man screaming and pointing at me for being ungrateful and forget their own ancestry. Raungkaw startled with the eyes and reminded of the story in the past. NumKang, who was a mother of Raungkaw, gave her during infancy to Tachang and Krunoy for take care and refusing to say who was her father and run away. Tewmake was also brought to stay with Krunoy and he close to Raungkaw. He helped take away Raungkaw. Raungkaw has a contract with a range of Tewmake, but false promises. But Tewmake never angry and Raungkaw came back with the help develop the village. Tachang did not accept help from Raungkaw. Until one day, the village got the fire, Tewmake to stop the rain to help get the fire going, but this has caused the plane crash that made Raungkaw fear and promised that if he come back, she did not go to anywhere else. The following message:

"Tewmake...Tewmake, he back or not" that made Raungkaw exhaustion folding seat, she dropped to the floor .. looking up at the sky which was covered with gray smoke. Swaying like to join hands with someone begging, said, 'please .. please. she did not lose him because she loved this man". (RomKaw, 2011: 324)

From the above statement, the author has demonstrated the concept of love to one another by means of relationship, tolerance and friendship together. In addition, efforts to overcome obstacles and to forgive each other come from different families as well.

1.1.2 The concept of love was due to troubles and happiness and it is found that the two stories: Sang Dow Klang Jai and Tai Rom Bai Puk.

Asin was a new head of the forest border patrol protection and ordination ceremony into the village. Asin stated that people invaded the conserved forest and everyone has been arrested. Only Nubdow was plantation owners who dared to argue that locals do eat here before the officially declared a forest reserve. Asin insisted that he had done everything according to the law. They argued even before it was closed. It fired up the village. After the fire burned down, Nubdow found evidence of arson and were firmly convinced that the forest fire burned the villagers. Asin and Nubdow was often the main antagonist throughout. One day, they found that someone stole in cutting wood and the illegal opium. They escaped the chase of capitalists. Nubdow was hiding the forest protection unit and was gossip of the villagers in the affair. But Nubdow was not interested in keeping with Asin on the forest. Both must go through obstacles and death, making both a great love for each other. The following message:

"So, if I would like to get something from you" "Will you get it?" Asin moved closer to Nubdow. She turned to look the other way with the timid "late" she said. "I will talk to each other on the back" "But I still could not sleep", the young man refused to release his hand to her simple heart tremble, Nubdow smiled with those words. (Rintlapus, 2011: 123)

For the story of Tai Rom Bai Puk, the author showed the concept of love was formed by troubles and happiness. Jiramate recently returned to Thailand and got Master degree from UK. He suspected his father sent money to a young woman, namely Lanna, every month. With curiosity and see old money making methods to Jiramate went to the village. Jiramate and Lanna had a problem and fight every time. He did not understand his father to give her money. She refused to open her mouth made Jiramate thinking of her as his father's concubine. In fact, money has been used for the village. Jiramate and Lanna inquired about Wirada's father wanted to put pressure on the locals for buying the land of village to become a resort. Jiramate and Lanna knew all the facts and told the villagers, but people did not believe them. They have been chased after overheard arson in the village. From this situation, Jiramate and Lanna were close and solved the problems together. Jiramate had a sincere love of Lanna in the unconscious and Lanna even now as well. The following message:

"Lanna sneaked up with slightly good aspect that she was exposed from Jiramate. They walked to the basement with a smile due to in part to a new joy in the heart of the newly occurrence to the couple. Pushed to make people had never done anything like them. A feeling of elation when they saw that it was a small matter or have helped make this village grow up". (Chomchan, 2011: 139)

From the above statement, the author exhibited the concept of love was due to troubles and happiness. A love could be rescued. To inspire, to each other or through emergency situations, it made sense the sincerity. The concept was seen as a rational human behavior conforms to reality.
